

typademic

Typademic turns distraction freely written markdown files into beautiful PDFs.

Todo

This GitHub template is agnostic to the programming language used, uses GitHub Actions to manage issues and pull requests, and helps enforce best practices for small projects. To use the template, generate a new project and perform the following tasks.

- ☒ add Moritz Mähr, `maehr`, `typademic` and `SHORT_DESCRIPTION` to `README.md` and change it according to www.makeareadme.com
- ☒ add `typademic` to `package.json` according to npm docs
- ☒ change `moritz.maehr@gmail.com` in `CODE_OF_CONDUCT.md`
- ☒ use www.gitignore.io to enhance `.gitignore`
- ☒ use gitattributes.io to enhance `.gitattributes`
- ☐ add example environment variables to `example.env`
- ☐ add GitHub actions in `.github/workflows/` according to starter-workflows
- ☐ activate gh-pages
- ☐ protect the main branch to enforce a fork and pull workflow
- ☐ activate GitHub security alerts and change `SECURITY.md` accordingly
- ☐ add favicons to `./`, for example via favicon.io
- ☐ keep a `CHANGELOG.md` according to keepachangelog.com

Installation

Use the package manager npm to install Prettier.

```
npm install
```

Usage

```
npm run check
npm run format

Support

This project is maintained by @maehr(<https://github.com/maehr>). Please understand that we won't be able to provide individual support via email. We also believe that help is much more valuable if it's shared publicly, so that more people can benefit from it.
